Professor Hugh Brower, Editor

The Parsons College Alumni Association expresses its appreciation to all of its members who have made this Directory possible by supplying detailed information.

To Professor Hugh Brower we are especially grateful for compiling and editing this book. Since he retired in June, 1941, after nineteen years of teaching in the English Department, he has spent most of his time in assembling and arranging this material. We feel that we have been unusually fortunate in having a man of Professor Brower's ability to carry out this tremendous task. His genuine interest in the students of Parsons College over a long period of years and his hobby of keeping track of them after they left the college, made him the ideal choice for our editor.

To the New York Chapter go our sincerest thanks, for it was their generous support which made this Directory possible. It was their gift which made our dream a reality.

We thank members of our Directory Committee for their efficient work in arranging for financing and selling the Directory: Ward Hunt, '33, Chairman; Minnie Corey Gaumer, '97; Esther Snook, '11; Eleanor Starkey, '33; Laura Bock McClurg, '32; Grace McClelland Fletcher, '27; Antoinette McMullin Loudon, '13.

We send an urgent appeal to every graduate and former student to keep the college informed on all details needed to keep his record up to date. Send such information to the Alumni Office.

Sincerely,

Beulah Hudgel Pumroy, '25, President
Parsons College Alumni Association

3. THE GRADUATES AND NON-GRADUATES. 1875-1942

The biographical sketches of all graduates have been limited to the name, degrees earned at Parsons and elsewhere, marriage information when available, vocation, and address. Listings are according to the name used as a student, names acquired by marriage appearing in parenthesis. A complete roll is given in each class, the asterisk (*) indicating those who are deceased. In a few cases the present address is not known.

The non-graduates are listed under the year in which they would have finished had they continued in school. Biographical information in this classification is restricted to marriage information, vocation, and address. Students who earned less than fourteen hours of credit, and "special" students are not listed.

Men known to be in present war service are listed as to which branch they are in: army, navy, marine, or coast guard. Each address given is the permanent home address.

It must be remembered that in so large a list many changes of address occur each day. This makes it inevitable that in some cases the information, so far as addresses are concerned, will be inaccurate almost at once. It is hoped that errors of omission and commission will be corrected by the readers.

II. The Academy

The Academy was started at the same time as the College, but grew smaller as the public high school system developed. It was finally discontinued in June, 1917

The following list omits academy students who continued into college studies, for such students are listed in the college class rolls above. The numeral after each name designates the year the student would have graduated if he had continued the college course.

The listing is in alphabetical order using the name under which the student was registered while in school. Therefore the list is not included in the general alphabetical index. The asterisks indicate those known to be deceased. Present addresses are given when they are known. This list omits those who took college studies.

VI. The General Index

To find the addresses and other information, turn to the class lists indicated by the year numerals. The prefix "ex" with a numeral means a non-graduate of the College. Graduates of the College have the numerals only. Students in the Academy who pursued less than one semester in the College are listed alphabetically under the division "Academy", and are not indexed here.

For each married woman two entries appear: one under the maiden name, and the other under the name acquired by marriage.

Names of trustees, faculty members, and recipients of advanced or honorary degrees are not to be found in this index. They can be readily found by turning to the lists themselves (see Table of Contents).
